

Focus on Purity in Manufacturing

Westfall Model 2800 and 2850 mixers can be fabricated to meet NSF (National Sanitation Foundation) International Product Testing & Certification Standards

Beer & Beverage Makers Need Pristine Water

Every delicious brew has its beginning in clear, pure water – the basis for just about any beverage manufacture. The beverage industry depends on water that meets the highest standards, both for soft drinks and juices as well as in the beer sector.

Food Processing

We've created special mixers for:

- food processing in Japan
- poultry processing in Mexico
- fish processing in Norway

Westfall Serves Food, Beverage & More

While well-known in water and wastewater treatment industries, Westfall also has experience creating mixers and flow conditioners that meet all requirements for food, beverage and drug safety. We specialize in fabricating custom products in whatever material the application demands, often highly polished stainless steel and/or special coatings.

We also offer mixers that can meet the very stringent requirements of manufacturers in the pharmaceutical industry.

Meeting NSF Standards

Whatever your application, Westfall can fabricate mixers in materials that qualify for the NSF mark – a respected independent certification organization in meeting the requirements of regulatory agencies worldwide.

Westfall is proud to pass NSF International testing and certification services for many of our products to comply with the highest international standards.
